

Improvements to TPC Training's online testing application gives industrial maintenance managers added assessment options

TPC Training Systems updates TPC TestMaster™ to give clients improved control over online testing structure.

Buffalo Grove, IL – March 31, 2015 – TPC Training Systems recently adapted its online industrial skills assessment application, TPC TestMaster™, to meet expanding client needs. The updated interface gives clients new ways to manage test structure and adds options to create and modify questions. TPC TestMaster™ covers more than 20 technical areas and the test bank encompasses over 100 technical topics.

TPC TestMaster™ now specifically offers clients:

- A new user interface with an updated look and feel.
- A new supported question types including:
 - Multiple correct answer option for multiple choice
 - Multiple Choice now can list up to 7 possible answers
- The ability to import Excel (CSV) documents to create your own test questions.
- An easier to manage banked tests, asking specific number of questions from different sections within the test.

The recent renovations to TPC TestMaster™ enable TPC's clients to further customize online industrial skills tests, which help them gauge trainee knowledge in areas that are specific to their working environment. Specifically, the added question structures give training administrators more control over assessment design, helping them better address situations that may challenge workforces on-the-job.

"Assessment is crucial to maintaining a standard of quality in your workforce," said Tim Jacobs, Technical Services Manager, TPC Training Systems. "We've found that these improvements help our clients quickly create tests that better match different training environments."

TPC Online™ and TPC TestMaster™ are designed to make managing a standards-based training program easier. Administrators can assign any test created in TPC TestMaster as a pre- or post-test to benchmark trainee knowledge and measure training success. As with all of the training through TPC Online, you can administer these custom tests to one location or across multiple facilities.
